

ISS Europe is a conference with a history of bringing influential industry leaders together to address and collaborate on the important issues facing the European microelectronics industry. The ISS platform provides networking and all the information needed to align strategies and to grasp on new opportunities.

Sponsoring the ISS Europe event will make your company stand out as a leader in the European microelectronics industry and will leave a strong impression of your brand in peoples minds.

Via ISS Europe sponsorship you can:

- Build awareness among device, equipment and material manufacturers from over 16 different countries
- Address over 3500 executives via media and direct pre-event promotions
- Reach 200-250 delegates onsite of which over 70% are Executive or Senior Management
- Get significant promotion and presence to manufacturers, vendors, government officials, financial analysts, media and others within the European community.
