

Travelling to Net Zero

Helping the industry achieve lower emissions

Doug Suerich, Product Evangelist

PEERGROUP®

SINCE 1992

Net Zero

Scope 1, 2, 3

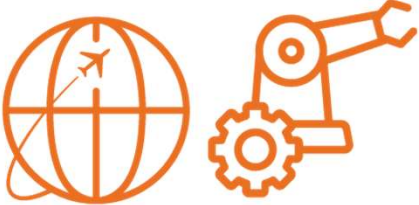

PEER Group Footprint

Scope 2: Office heat/utilities

Scope 1: Low: mostly commuting to office

Scope 3: Travel, use of tool automation

Scope 1 - Commuting

- Processes in place since 2015:
 - Tracking of every employee
 - Days worked
 - Days in the office
 - Miles driven or commute method
 - Car, bus, bike, walk or carpool
- Any new ideas and initiatives can easily be tracked and measured

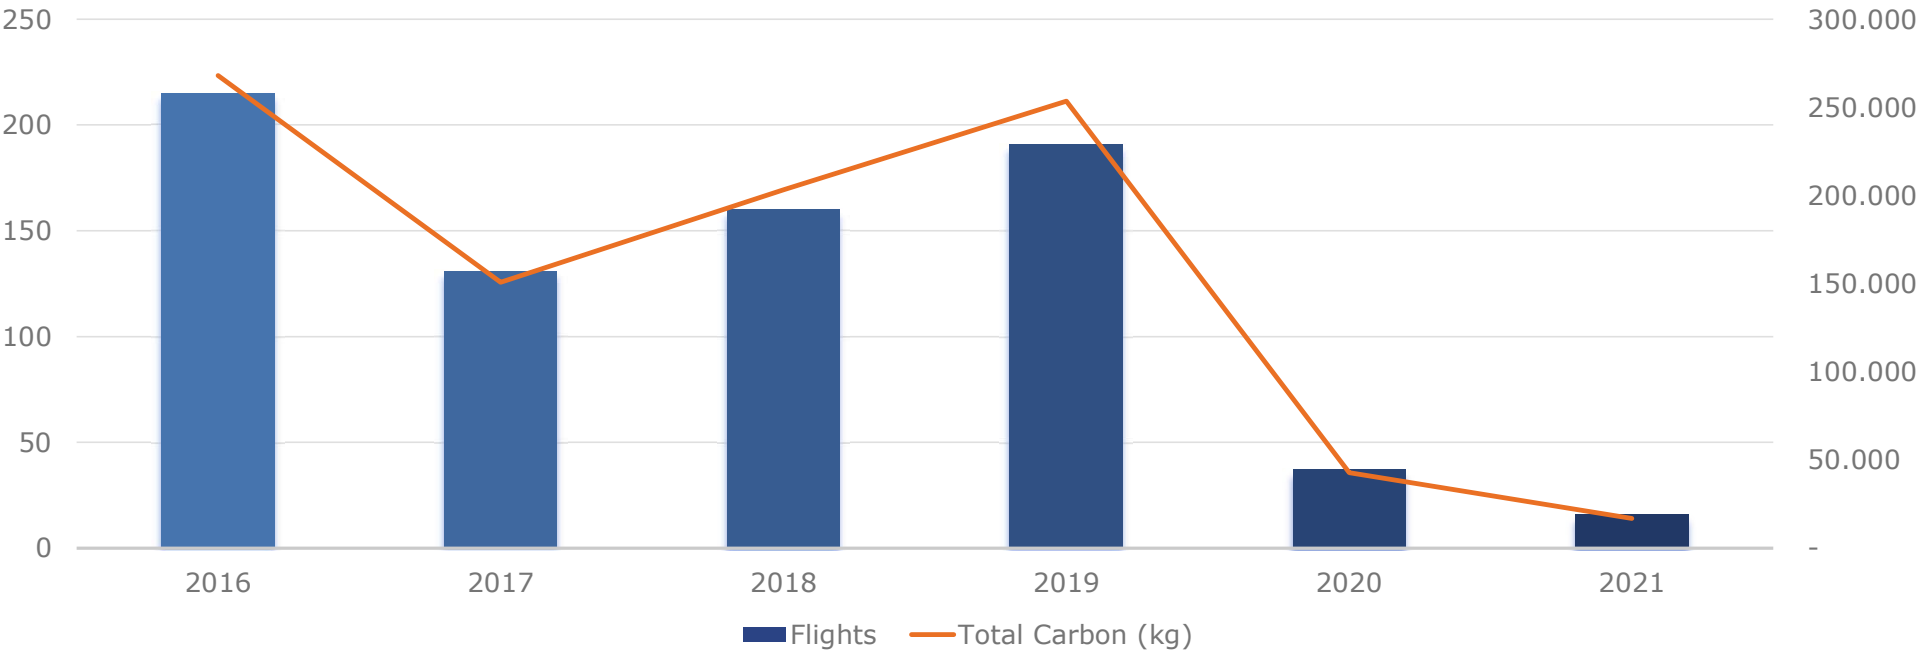

Scope 3: Business travel

- Why do we travel?
 - Specification trips
 - Onsite training
 - Acceptance testing and integration
 - Source inspection
- Sales & Marketing activities

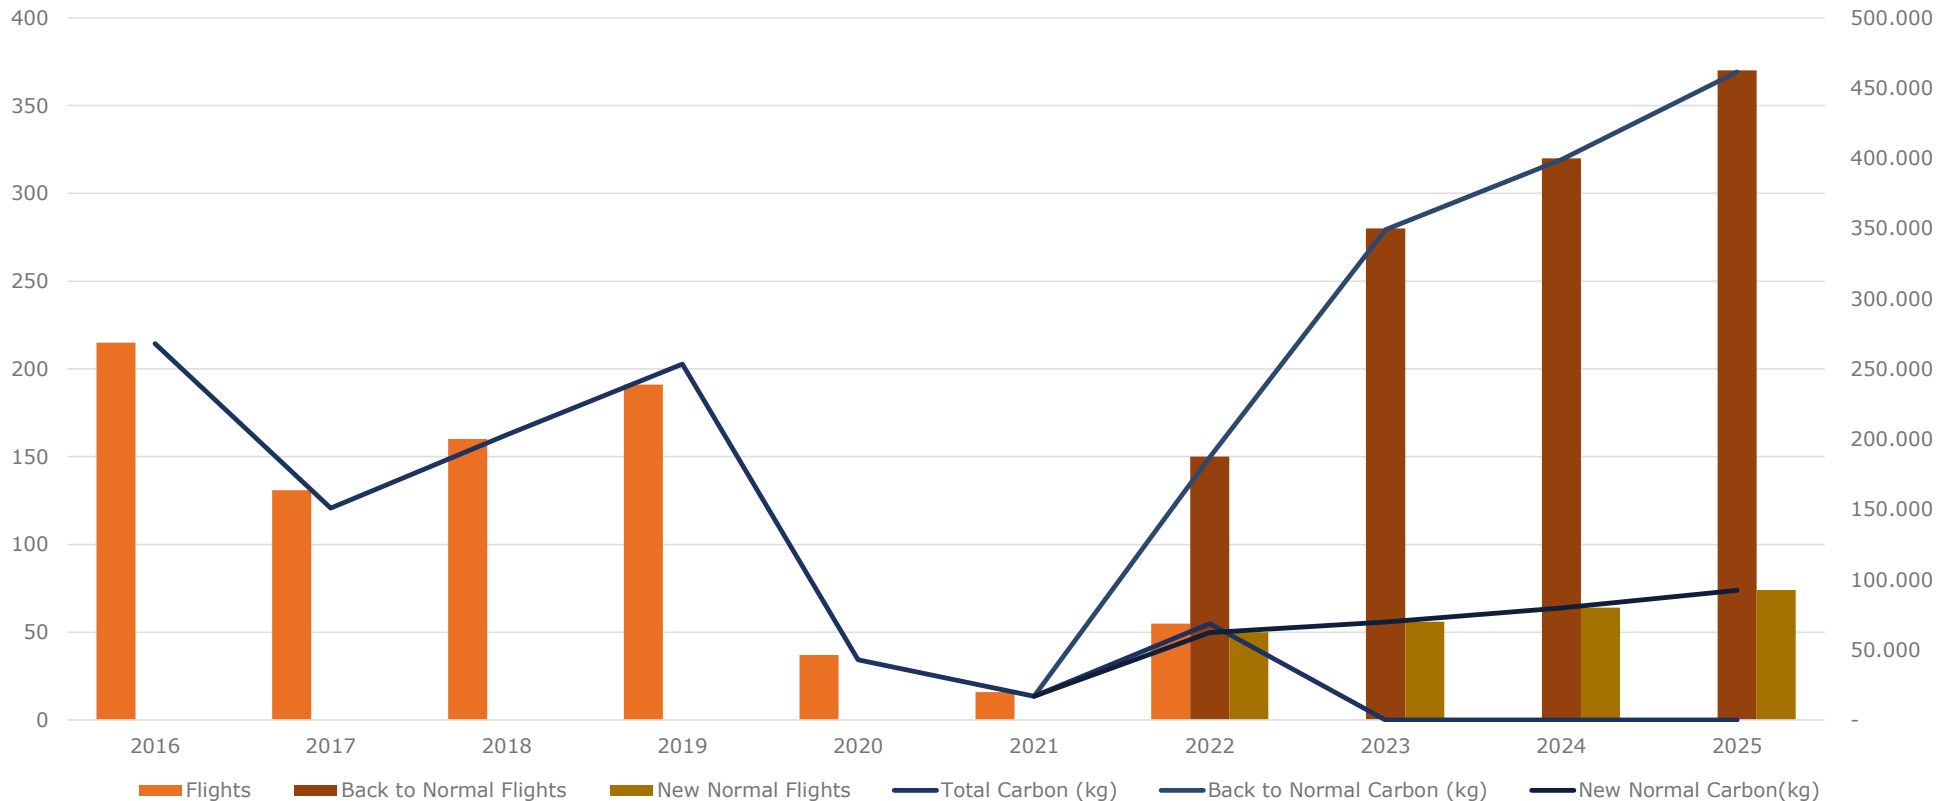

Pandemic impact

PEER GROUP AIR TRAVEL CARBON EMISSIONS

PEER Travel projections

Projected Air Travel Carbon Emissions

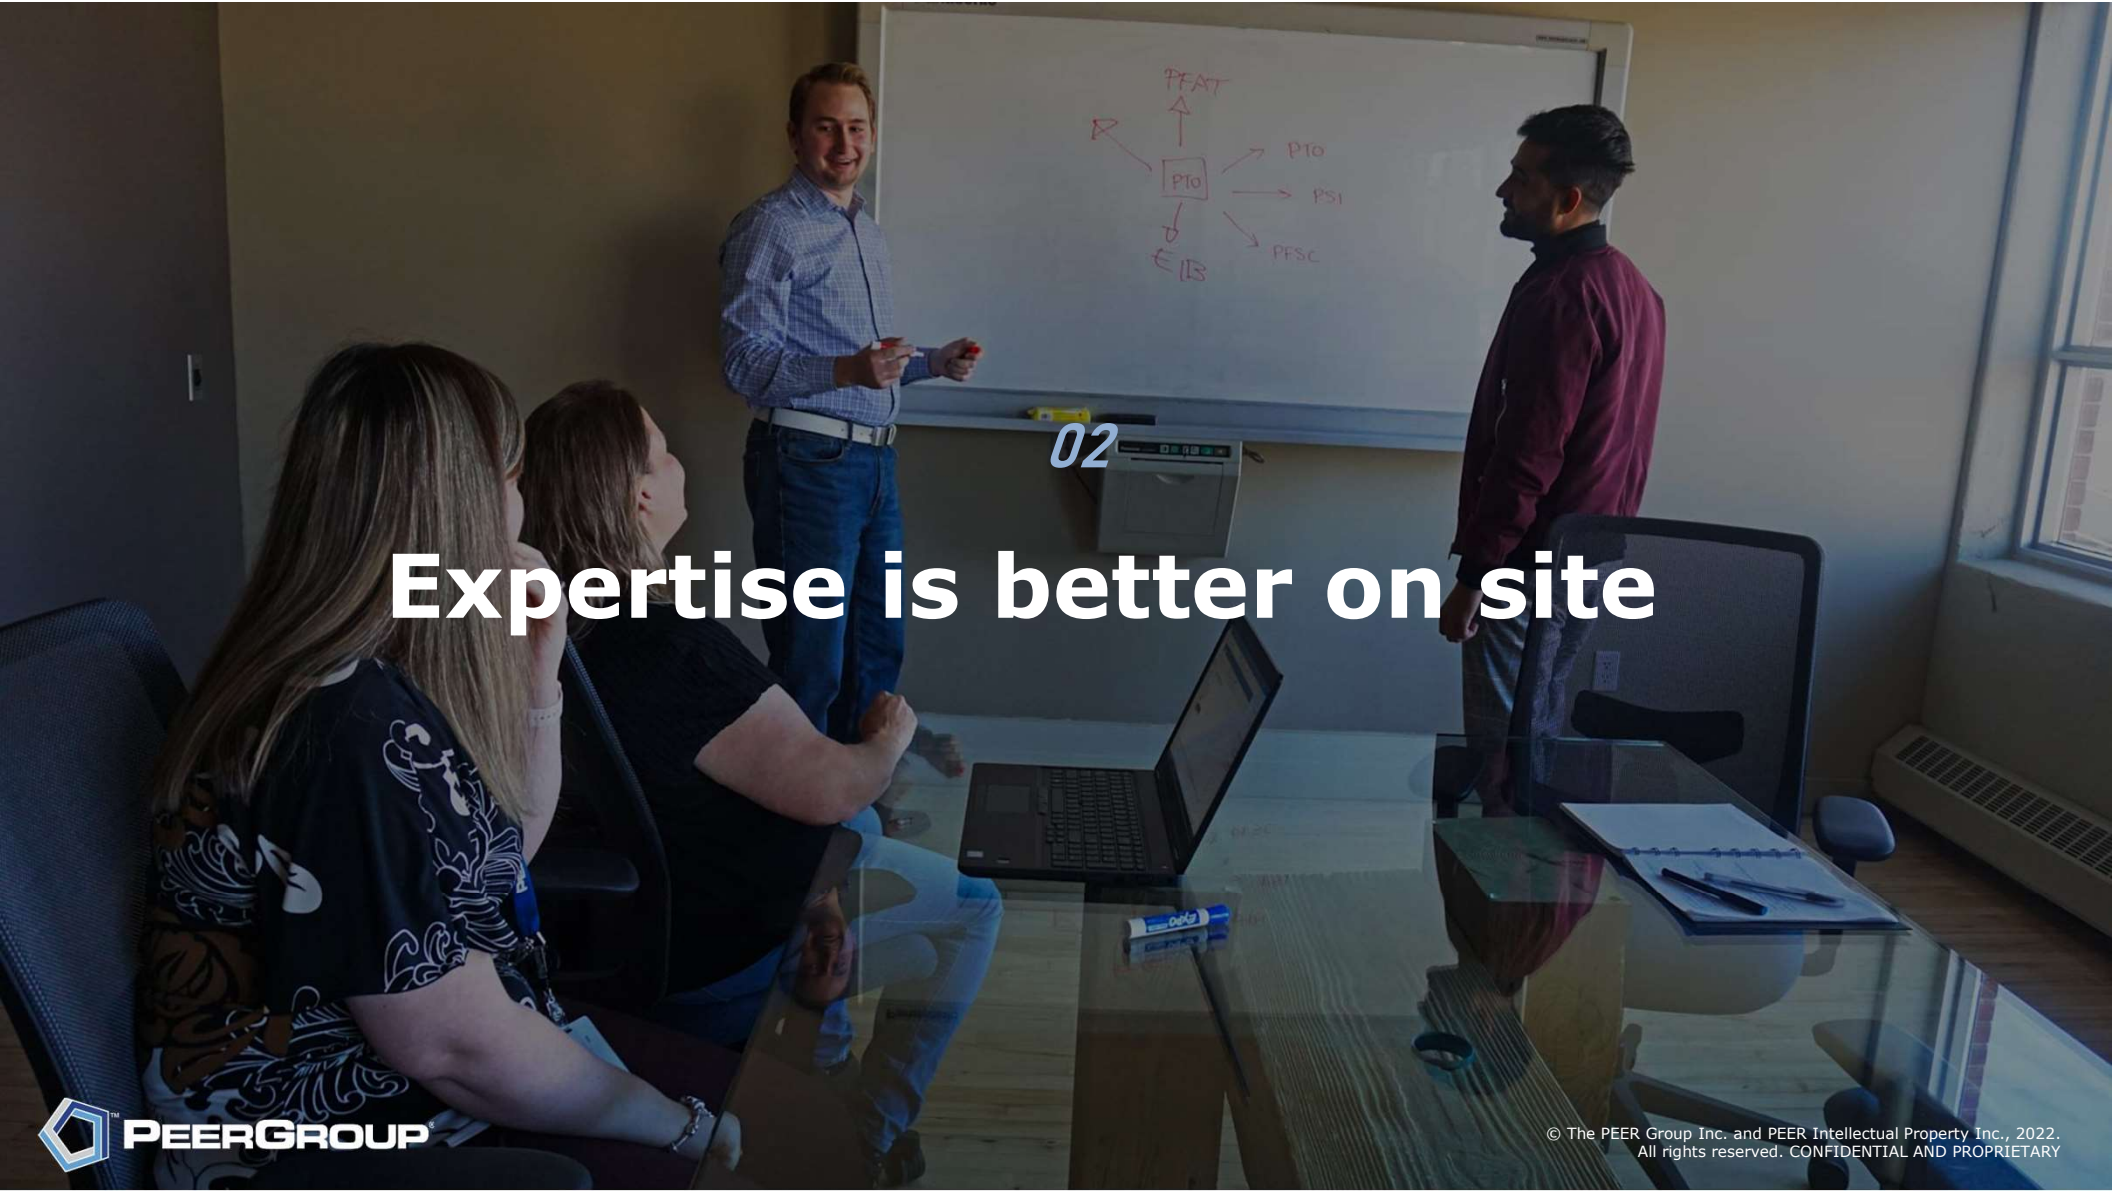

© The PEER Group Inc. and PEER Intellectual Property Inc., 2022. All rights reserved. CONFIDENTIAL AND PROPRIETARY

6 Lessons learned

01

Travel days are lost days

02

Expertise is better on site

03

Technology access is better locally

Multi monitor, better connectivity, better desks, etc.

04

Tool access is better onsite

05

Remote provides flexibility to task switch

06

Project Complexity Matters

07 (Bonus)

Travel burnout is real

Summary

More Travel

02 Expertise is better on site

04 Tool access is better on site

05 Remote allows task switching

06 Project complexity matters

Less travel

01 Travel days are lost days

03 Technology access is better remote

05 Remote allows task switching

07 Travel burnout is real

Future: Augmented Reality?

© The PEER Group Inc. and PEER Intellectual Property Inc., 2022. All rights reserved. CONFIDENTIAL AND PROPRIETARY

Summary

- Remote access is much more accepted than pre-pandemic
- Requires close co-operation between supplier and vendor

Thank you!

Please visit our booth C1554

Doug Suerich

Product Evangelist

Doug.Suerich@peergroup.com

PEERGROUP
Integrating Automation & Information™

www.peergroup.com