

Sponsorship Opportunities

The MEMS & Sensors Technical Congress—MSTC 2026 brings together leaders from industry, academia, & startups to explore how advances in sensing technologies are being transformed into actionable solutions and business outcomes. The program spans the full value chain—from device-level innovation to deployment and commercialization, from edge AI to robotics to wearables—while enabling organizations to showcase their unique contributions to the broader ecosystem. Network with existing and emerging MEMS and sensors professionals.
